Introduction

The Felton collection consists of materials dealing mainly with the Schuyler Falls area and the Felton family. Some printed works supplement the collection by dealing with other events and programs of the area.

Materials in the collection range in dates from the 1840s into the 1970s. A majority of the material is from the early to mid-1900s.

The Felton collection is small but it covers a wide range of events and topics. A portion of the collection is genealogical information of the Felton, Lyon, Herron, Bridges, and Weatherman families. There is also information on the Woman's Land Army and a variety of legal and personal papers.

The Felton family lived in Schuyler Falls where they owned a farm and later a pulpwood business. They were active in the local area with the Red Cross, Woman's Land Army, and the Order of DeMolay. The rest of the collection contains materials from the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture about the Gypsy Moth Quarantine, Business papers, correspondences, receipts, and other misc. papers and items.
